Reeves Appointed Distributors for Consolidated Ind.

Three Winners In "What Is Going to Happen at Reeves?"

David Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Petty; Eugene Sheehan, Antioch, and Mrs. Henry Mau, Antioch, will each receive a certificate worth $10.00 in merchandise at Reeves for making the best and most nearly correct answers in the contest conducted at Reeves during the week. A great many answers were received, and only three were close.

The correct answer, of course, is announced in a double page advertisement on pages four and five of this issue of the News, and concerns the appointment of Reeves as distributors for Lake county for Consolidated Industries, LaFayette, Ind., manufacturers of a complete line of heating equipment, air conditioning equipment, freezers, and other kindred products.

The appointment of a drug store as distributor for this type of products represents an entirely new idea in merchandising, and has been set up as a "laboratory experiment" and may prove to be the first move in change in merchandising methods for the industry.

George Borovicka, manager of Reeves, said today that the products would be on display in the store for the grand opening on Saturday of this week, and that deliveries on units sold would be made within a few days. Five "Jeeps" will be procured for service use, and all installation and service will be made by factory-trained service men. Borovicka also said that around-the-clock service would be available on other makes of equipment also.

Plans of the new distributing company call for setting up drug stores in the county as sales rooms, all existing dealers will also be retained.

Robert January of Antioch 4-H club was chosen county Outstanding 4-H member and Project Honor member in poultry by county judges.

The Outstanding 4-H member award is based on the member's achievements and participation in local, county, and state 4-H club activities during the entire period of enrollment, according to Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas and Youth Assistant Howard Johnson. In selecting members, the judges place special emphasis on leadership ability.

The Project Honor award is based largely on the current year's project achievement.

It will be a holiday Monday for Antioch school children, but it will be a day of "schooling" for the teachers who are expected to attend the Lake Shore division meeting of the Illinois Education association at Evanston.

William C. Petty, county superintendent of schools in announcing the institute said the program at which prominent Illinois educators and others will speak will begin at 10 a. m. and extend through to 2 p. m.

Because of the large number of association members half of the division will meet at the J. Sterling Morton Township High school at Cicero and the other half at Evanston Township High school, Evanston. The programs will be the same with the speakers switching from morning to afternoon sessions.

Betty Ring to Be Queen for Annual Homecoming Tilt

Sequoits to Meet Palatine Friday Night and Dance Follows

Betty Ring has been chosen queen for the Homecoming football game and dance at the Antioch Township High school Friday night.

Her court will include Jerry Sass, Joan Conrad, June Wunter and Mary Ann Quilty as attendants. The Misses Sass, Conrad, and Wunter will serve in the added capacity as cheerleaders with June Hunter and Annabel Barthel.

The Homecoming celebration will start at 7 p. m. Thursday with a bonfire at the village park where students will gather to sing school songs and cheer the football team. A snake dance will follow.

A parade of decorated cars is planned for 3:45 p. m. Friday in which alumni of the school are asked to participate. Prizes will be offered for the best decorated cars, 40 points being given for originality, 20 for Homecoming theme, 20 for execution, and 20 for general effect.

The football game between the Sequoits and Palatine High will start at 7:30 p. m., a half hour earlier than usual time because of the dance that will follow. Admission to the dance will be 50 cents.

Palatine, the opponents of Antioch, has been defeated twice by conference teams. They were beaten by Grant 19-0, and by Northbrook, 25-0. However, their team is big and will outweigh Antioch on the line.

The probable starters for the two teams will be:

Antioch	Pos.	Palatine
Pregener	LE	Sander
Weber, D.	LT	Collignon
Cosgrave	LG	Werner
Bratruide	C	Boobyer
Ohlgren	RG	Hestrup
Kuligowski	RT	Kathrein
Jones	RE	Hahn
Osenbaug	QB	Pepper
Mattson, L.	F	Neinacht
Mattson, K.	LI	Smith
Mattson, R.H.	RI	Gustafson

Although the Sequoits held Bensenville to even terms during the first half of the game there Saturday, they went down to defeat 26 to 6. Bensenville scored a touchdown in the first quarter but failed to convert. Antioch scored in the second quarter and in failing to add the extra point tied up the game 6 to 6.

Bensenville went ahead in the third quarter on a touchdown and goal, and in the last quarter ran the score higher by taking advantage of an Antioch fumble and intercepting an Antioch pass.

Rescue Squad Fund Now Totals $6,100 to Purchase Truck

Squad Guests of Lions Club and Plan Accounting of Annual Gifts

Through the $500 gift of the Lions club the Rescue Squad fund has now reached $6,100 and preparations are being made to order a new truck for the squad for delivery by July 1.

Preliminary plans for placing the order will be discussed at a meeting of the squad Monday evening.

Representatives of the squad meeting with those of the Lions club following the regular meeting of the Lions at Adolph's Channel Inn Monday came to a tentative agreement on the handling of the fund. The matter will be referred back to the Rescue Squad as a whole.

Continuation of the campaign from year to year in an effort to raise $25,000 through which not only the truck may be purchased, but a building to house it and other equipment constructed, was planned. The committee starting the fund would continue in this service, it was proposed, and write the checks for the needs of the Rescue Squad as the latter requested, giving regular reports to the public.

Current Expense $1200 It was estimated that based on the past expenditures, the Rescue Squad would need $1,200 a year for current expenses.

Money turned over to the squad by the Fund Committee will be administered by Village Clerk Roy R. Murrie, ex-officio treasurer of the squad in the same manner as before, according to Herman Holbek, captain of the squad.

Members of the Lions club committee propose that monies given directly to the squad at the time of operations be turned over to the general fund and accounted for to the public.

Won't Direct Expenditures

Harry J. Krueger, chairman of the Lions Club Rescue Squad committee said the public does not expect, nor does the Lions club desire to direct expenditures made by the Rescue Squad, but that a public report of expenditures is desirable.

Captain Holbek said that a drawing account of $1,000 for operating and maintenance expenses might work out satisfactorily.

During the regular dinner meeting of the Lions club members of the Rescue Squad were guests. President Krueger announced to the club that the board of directors had decided not to carry its appeal for necessary police protection to the Antioch village board until the board first had time to act, but that the board now knowing the club's attitude must act quickly or the club will ask other organizations to join them attending a meeting and demanding action.

To Meet At Lake Villa

The November 12 meeting of the club will be on Nov. 12 at the Lake Villa grade school with the Lake Villa Community Men's club. A nominating committee was appointed to nominate officers and directors of the club for 1947 at the Oct. 24 meeting. The election will be on Dec. 9, and the new officers will be installed Jan. 13.

Anton J. Novak of the division of education Department of Conservation of the State of Illinois, showed motion pictures of hunting and fishing in the Chain O' Lakes region.

New donors for the squad fund are Mrs. Clifton Bray, James Rymer, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kaufman, Leslie Heath, Ben Burke and Paul and Mary Chase.

Four new retail routes and one wholesale route have been added in the last three months, involving the purchase of four new insulated trucks for the fleet.

Parker suffered a dislocated left shoulder and cuts about the face and Cameron suffered internal injuries and back injuries.

Parker flying his plane in near darkness, said he was trying to reach Ravenswood airport about 5:15 p. m. when the plane struck a tree before hitting some high tension wires and falling to the ground.

Jos. James, 83, Dies in Hospital; Funeral Is Today

Was a Pioneer Merchant in Antioch Where He Was Widely Known

Funeral services were held today for Joseph P. James, aged 83 years, a life long resident of Antioch and vicinity who died Monday, Oct. 14 at St. Therese hospital in Waukegan.

The services at 2:30 p. m. were conducted by the Rev. W. C. Henslee at the Strang funeral home and burial was in Hillside cemetery.

In the death of Mr. James Antioch lost the village's oldest and best known business men. Active in many local organizations during his earlier years, he gained a wide acquaintance and held the high regard of many friends.

Joseph P. James was born in English Prairie, on the west boundary of Antioch township, Aug. 8, 1863, the son of the late Joseph C. and Martha James. He resided at English Prairie until 60 years ago when he came to Antioch.

He was a telegrapher in Kansas when he met and married Laura Burks. They celebrated their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary last June 19.

Mr. James came to Antioch in 1887 and entered the furniture business and to that added the service of funeral director. The business was sold to L. G. Strang a number of years ago. For 30 years he was justice of the peace and was in the real estate and insurance business at the time of his death.

For many years he served as federal cooperative weather observer.

Known by the more familiar name of "Joe", Mr. James was always ready to serve or lend a helping hand. He worked for the advancement and promotion of Antioch, his printed matter which he distributed widely served as a testimony to his belief in Antioch as a good place in which to live.

He was a member of the Antioch Methodist church for 50 years; was past master of Sequoit Lodge A. F. & A. M. and treasurer for the Modern Woodman of America for many years.

He is survived by the wife, a daughter, Mrs. Louise Gilbert, of Chicago, a son, Ralph C. James, of Chicago, a sister, Mrs. Ida Osmond, of Antioch and three grandchildren, Edward J. Gilbert and Ralph C. James, Jr., and Winifred James.

Revolutionary and Costly

The Wagner-Murray-Dingell compulsory health bill would disrupt a whole profession at a cost to the American people of over $4,500,000,000 annually.

Socializing the medical profession would not lower the cost of medicine. It would restrict the doctor to the point where he would be tied hand and foot. Medical care would be rationed to the patient and if the patient wasn't well in the time allotted, he would not only pay his compulsory health insurance premium but would pay for hospitalization and other expenses.

The best kind of medical care can now be secured by acquiring membership in a voluntary prepaid medical plan which does not make the doctor a ward of the state, unable to give undivided attention to a patient. Thus, when a patient suffers from illness his whole world does not collapse around him.

Too much government, in the form of misguided efforts to provide a "better life," can demoralize the efficiency of the people. The Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill is a case of extreme interference because it proposes to place the people under a compulsory health insurance plan which leaves as little opportunity as possible for self help.

Have Owners No Rights?

The owners of industrial properties seized by the government, presumably temporarily because of labor troubles, are without rights. That, in essence, is the gist of the argument made by Henry I. Rand, Assistant Attorney General, appearing for the coal mines administrator in a case brought by a company to prevent signing of a contract recognizing the United Mine Workers as representatives of the company's supervisors.

"It is our position essentially," said Mr. Rand, "first that the U. S. Government, in the operation of properties which it constructs or acquires, has the same authority to do with these properties and to deal with respect to them as any private proprietor has, and that no stranger to the operation has the standing in any court of law or court of equity to challenge the method of operation of the properties." The "stranger" to which Mr. Rand referred was the owner of the property in question.

The implications in this doctrine are plain. If the owners of properties which have been seized are to be regarded by the law as "strangers," the government, in concert with the labor unions, can follow any whim it may choose. It can enter into wage and working agreements which may make the future successful operation of the industry under private ownership virtually impossible. It can bind the owners and executives of the industry to contracts which leave them impotent and defenseless.

In fact, about the only right the owners have left under this doctrine is the right to pay the enormous bills incurred. Here is a policy which, if permitted to long exist, can make the eventual socialization of industry inevitable regardless of the will of the American people or the intent of Congress.

The Air of Freedom

"Christianity is not a static, weak, timid thing in its philosophy," writes Paul Mallon. "It prods ingenuity, encourages use of talents, proposes advancement, recognizes the natural differences between men, and proposes reward for effort.....It will work because it will produce....."

"What they (Christians) need to do is to make Christianity work—in all reason and common sense, using the utmost of their abilities to attain the utmost measure of truth, to employ their own abilities according to their talents, to promote a justice in accord with Christian principles. That also happens to be good democratic doctrine. The Constitution never guaranteed happiness—only the right to pursue it."

The underlying tenet of Christianity is the importance of the individual. And the importance of the individual is also the underlying tenet of our political, social and economic system. It is not an accident that the free church exists only where all other freedoms are guaranteed and maintained. It is, instead, inevitable. Freedom is an absolute—it cannot be preserved in one face of a nation's life and denied in another.

Nor is it accidental that the utmost material progress has been made in lands where spiritual and economic freedom exist. We cannot, for example, draw a line between the free church and the free business. Both stem directly from the identical principle. Both are part of the great ideal which says, in effect, that individual man has rights which must never be abrogated.

Individual enterprise, in any field, blooms only in the air of freedom. The preservation of that air is the greatest problem confronting this chaotic world.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Spy of Today Is Specialist and Sticks to Desk

Cloak and Dagger Extinct; Technical Experts Now Take Their Place.

WASHINGTON.—Lack of trained personnel tended to make U. S. intelligence activities before the war a rather amateurish enterprise but this is being corrected to some extent. From lessons learned in the war, the national intelligence authority (NIA), our new foreign intelligence system, is proceeding on broad, realistic lines.

Emphasis today is on large staffs of scholars and technical specialists, rather than on sinister international snoopers and wily female charmers.

"Ninety per cent or more of intelligence is freely available to anyone who wants it," says William Benton, assistant secretary of state for public affairs. "You can get it in libraries and book shops and on newsstands, from individuals and from our accredited missions abroad. It's open intelligence."

Data Forwarded.

Masses of such data are channeled back to this country to secretaries of state, war and navy, who compose NIA, and various other government agencies.

Often the most prosaic government announcements regarding contracts, shipments and assignment of personnel reveal information of the high strategic value.

Within the United States are hidden mines of information about foreign powers. In fact, officials of the now disbanded Office of Strategic Service (OSS) estimated that 80 per cent of the information used in the air war against Japan was obtained in this country—from the files of banks, insurance companies, engineering companies, business firms of all kinds and private records of individuals.

Navy Gets Facts.

The navy obtained highly important information regarding the beaches of Okinawa from a shell collector living in the African desert. He had spent years on Okinawa studying shells.

Under Dr. William L. Langer, former Harvard historian who during the war was chief of the research and analysis branch of OSS, the state department is organizing a unit employing hundreds of scholars formerly in OSS.

They will make broad, systematic studies covering many areas and including all phases of a subject—economic, ethnological, historical, political, etc. Subjects will cover those with which diplomats, occupation officials and military men must deal, such as the Ruhr, the Turkish straits and the Italian situation.

Dismantling of Camps to Make Lumber Available

WASHINGTON.—Wholesale dismantling of surplus army camps and other projects to provide material for veterans' housing will begin shortly, the government announced.

The program is expected to make available enough lumber for 125,000 three bedroom houses, it was estimated informally. The over-all quantity to be obtained is officially calculated at 1½ billion board feet or more.

The salvaged lumber is due to begin flowing into housing channels within 60 days.

The engineer corps will have 15 dismantling jobs well under way by August 1, another 15 by September 1, and 20 more by October 1, the war assets administration and the national housing agency announced.

'Poor' Aged Recluse Is Found With Only $100,000

NEW YORK.—Authorities are pondering the strange case of Mary Frankerich, aged recluse who was taken to Bellevue hospital for observation. She had been living in an unheated $23-a-month flat obtaining food from neighbors through complaints of poverty—but she had more than $100,000 in cash, bank deposits and war bonds.

For weeks she had refused to venture from her tenement home, other tenants told police. Night after night she had kept them awake, they said as she piled chairs against her doors and windows, with pots and pans on the chairs. She shouted that robbers and murderers were after her.

Hospital Aids Admit

They've Seen Everything
HARRISBURG, PA.—A week-end of strange mishaps convinced local hospital attendants they've seen everything.

About to stumble into the Susquehanna river, a man who "thought them steps led to a bar" was caught in time by a passerby.

A woman seeking maximum heat pulled off one shoe, stuck her foot into the heater in her automobile, and suffered a "nicked" big toe.

A Hummelstown man, employed as a guard at the state capitol, said he mounted a man's shoulders to peep through a window, then lost his balance and suffered rib fractures.

History-making Conventions

Abraham Lincoln was nominated as Republican candidate for the Presidency in Chicago in 1860. Thus began a long chain of history-making political conventions in Chicago, which, in turn, nominated Grant, Garfield, Cleveland, Harrison, Roosevelt, Taft, Harding and Roosevelt II.

Siberian and Japanese iris are long stemmed, broad, flat flowers, somewhat resembling the bearded types, but are beardless. They are grown from rhizomes as the beardless are. The Japanese types require good drainage but the Siberians like a moist location.

Job Printing
Job printing in the early 19th century was only a small sideline of newspaper shops. By 1880 it was a distinct industry which employed 58.5 thousand wage earners in almost 3.5 thousand book and job shops. By 1937 there were 192 thousand wage earners in 13.9 thousand book and job plants.

An Open Letter

Dear Friends:

As you realize, the science of pharmaceuticals doesn't terminate with Commencement exercises. Your pharmacist, like your physician, realizing the dire necessity of perpetual enlightenment in his practice, so that he may render his services to you with skill, judgment and understanding, has pledged his life to alleviate the suffering of mankind in the most expedient and trustworthy methods known to medical science.

It is important to realize that medical science has been constantly aided by the conscientious and diligent research of the pharmaceutical chemist.

We, at Reeves, realizing our obligation to you, have taken pride in the knowledge that no other community in the country has a finer or more complete pharmaceutical department than ours; and your appreciation of these finer services may be attested by the thousands upon thousands of prescriptions that we have had the privilege of handling for you in the past.

Because pain and suffering has no schedule of working hours, and because you or your loved ones may need our services at any time, we are constantly prepared to assist your physician in maintaining your good health at whatever hour or day the necessity may arise. We have made it our practice to keep our doors open to you day and night, three hundred and sixty-five days of every year.

In our time, we have seen an end of the old type of apothecary shop with its musty corners, its roots and herbs. As the mysteries of medicine have been supplanted by the tremendous knowledge given us by medical research, so, too, has the drug store advanced as an integral part of our modern living.

To progress with the modern trend, we have after careful and diligent thought, added these needs, vital to your health, comfort and happiness. Following a course of conservative buying, we have been careful to avoid anything that doesn't guarantee the highest standard of quality.

In serving our community we take pride in the consistent and increasing visits of our patrons, whose household slogans "Get it at Reeves" is significant of the faith and confidence placed in our services and cautious selections.

Realizing that the fundamental concern regarding good health during the winter months is the common cold that causes so many serious diseases and, with the knowledge, that keeping warm is one of the requisite essentials, we have devoted a great deal of time in the one place that demands most of our time, the home.

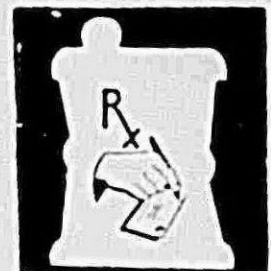

With this as a premise, we have thoroughly investigated the value of uniform heating and even temperature, and continuing with our study, we have discovered that thermostatic control with a good stoker is the surest method of attaining the desired result. A careful trial has proven to us without doubt that of all the popular stokers on the market, the Consolidated Industries have always been first with all the better features in modern heating and cooling.

We are justly proud therefor to announce our appointment as the Consolidated Industries Regional office for distribution, installation and service of their products in all of Lake County.

You have our sincere promise that we will continue to render the same service to you in this new department, as has been our standard always.

Sincerely,

Reeves Drug Store

Curly-Top Refuses Doll; Sis Explains

GRAND JUNCTION, COLO.—When a youngster with long curls was handed a doll as a reward for taking part in an intermission kid show on the stage of a local movie theater recently, the gift was refused. An elder sister of the child explained that her little brother had no use for dolls.

Seek Japanese in $30 Million Theft

British Officers and Dutch Also Are Involved.

BATAVIA, JAVA.—A mysterious Japanese colonel, believed to have the bulk of a reported fabulous $30,000,000 treasure stolen during the occupation, was trailed after the Eurasian mistress of his subordinate talked so much she exposed the theft.

British army personnel, Dutch and Japanese were involved. Allied investigators on the elusive path of the 10 steel trunks and five crates of jewels, gold and cash said eight arrests had been made. A British captain and sergeant and the woman were among those held. Other Britons en route to England faced arrest, investigators said.

The investigator reported $6,000,000 of the loot including "diamonds as big as your thumb" had been recovered.

Authoritative sources said that three days before the Japanese surrender, a Japanese secret police officer, Capt. Hiroshi Nakamura, commandeered the trunks and crates containing the treasure from the Batavia state pawnshop and took them to the residence of his slender 28-year-old Eurasian mistress, mother of his two children.

The Japanese told the woman to take her pick. She chose about $6,000,000 worth of jewels, and Nakamura turned the rest over to the colonel, whose name authorities did not disclose.

A Dutch civilian posing as an intelligence officer gained her confidence. He learned of the loot and tipped the British captain, a member of the field security service.

The captain and a sergeant arrested the mistress.

The case broke when Nakamura's mistress lodged a complaint charging the British captain with mistreatment.

Forbid Exports of Autos Through 'Baggage' Rule

WASHINGTON.—The government moved to break up what it described as a practice of shipping automobiles abroad as "personal baggage" and selling them there at exorbitant prices.

To halt it, the commerce department's office of international trade forbade export of cars as personal baggage unless the traveler proves he has lived in the United States continuously for a year and has owned the car for six months.

Officials said reports from Mexico and Cuba were that large numbers of tourists have taken out cars ostensibly for use in their travels and then sold them at "fabulous" prices. Some were being reshipped to Europe for an even bigger profit.

Silver Shortage Holding Up Goods, Industry Says

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Electrical appliance manufacturers "will probably be forced to halt deliveries in a few weeks because of the scarcity of silver," the General Electric company announced.

"The same condition holds true for the automotive motion picture, food processing, farm machinery and many other industries," H. L. Erlicher, G. E. vice president in charge of purchasing, asserted in a statement.

Erlicher said that industry had been unable to buy silver since the expiration of the Green act last December 31, which, he added, authorized industries to buy from the treasury department's surplus supply.

Eagle Twice Attacks Big Passenger Plane

MOSCOW.—The newspaper Izvestia recently published a dispatch from the North Caucasus reporting that an eagle twice attacked a passenger plane and crashed into the wing on its second assault.

According to the story, the eagle threw itself at the plane like a stone in the first attack, but missed because the pilot took evasive action.

On the second try the eagle hit the plane, crashed through the wing and was caught in the wing flaps. It was found dead in the wing when the pilot landed at Stavropol.

Father Saves Baby's Life After Boat Upsets in Sea

SWAMPSCOTT, MASS.—For 45 minutes, 15-month-old Marion Drake was held aloft by her father to save her from drowning after a squall upset their fishing dory. When the boat went over, the father grabbed the baby while his wife, Hedwick and a friend swam for their lives. Another fisherman sighted the swimmers and hauled them aboard his boat.

PLANNED ECONOMY

By PAULSON

"I only work on bicuspids. For that molar extraction, you'll have to write Washington, Department of Molar Hygiene!"

Rail Center

Chicago is the world's leading railroad center and grain trading center as well. The Chicago industrial area, including Cook, Du Page, Lake, Kane and Will counties in Illinois, and Lake county in Indiana, leads all other similar areas in the production or distribution of foodstuffs, including meat products; iron and steel and manufactures including machinery, agricultural implements, telephone, radio and radar equipment; petroleum refining; confectionery; furniture; railway equipment; and heating and plumbing supplies.

Early Chicago

The first white men to visit the area in which Chicago now stands were two French explorers, Louis Joliet and Father Jacques Marquette, in 1673. The area remained a possession of France for 67 years, and of Great Britain for 35 years before it was acquired by the U. S. through the Treaty of Greenville in 1795. Fort Dearborn, a frontier outpost, was erected at a point close to the southwest corner of the present-day Michigan avenue bridge in 1803. Chicago was incorporated as a town on August 10, 1833, and as a city on March 4, 1837.

Apple of Tropics

The mango — the apple of the tropics — is a fruit of unusual merit.

Accumulate Clean Clothes

It is just as easy for the housewife to accumulate clean clothes as soiled ones. Doing the washing in small batches at intervals during the week instead of all at one time on a single wash day makes for all-round efficiency and an ever-ready supply of clean linens and clothes. There is economy in removing dirt and perspiration often and saving of the housewife's time and strength. Fine fabrics require gentle handling if they are to look well and wear well and ingrained dirt becomes difficult to remove.

Chair Back

The shape of the back of the chair is important to comfort. A shallow curve backward between the posts prevents pressure on the spine. A spoon-handle curve rising from the seat supports the hips and allows one to lean back comfortably and still retain an alert position. A chair back that reaches a height of 32 to 36 inches from the floor is high enough to support the lower part of the shoulder blades in comfort. Higher backs look too formal and are inconvenient to use at tables and desks.

Successful Transplants
Success in transplanting plants depends on doing the work carefully, having the soil in good condition, and setting out thrifty plants.

Great Central Market
Within a 500-mile radius of Chicago are — 36 per cent of the nation's population; 37 per cent of the nation's wholesale establishments; 38 per cent of the nation's retail stores; 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns; 40 per cent of the nation's farm output, in terms of dollar value of products. Six of the world's 150 largest banks are located there.

Fire Spurred Safety
The Great Chicago Fire, October 8, 1871, wiped out the entire business district, and left homeless one-third of the population. Chicago won world-wide admiration through its courageous efforts to rebuild the city along modern lines. To safeguard against future fires, metal, brick and stone were widely used in reconstruction. Out of this development came the world's first skyscraper — strictly a Chicago invention.

Chicago Industry
Many of the basic enterprises to which Chicago owes much of its subsequent development were launched early in its history. These include the first meat packing business in 1833; the first iron foundry in 1837; the manufacture of agricultural implements, the McCormick Reaper, 1847. In the year 1848, the first railroad to serve the city — the Chicago and Galena — started operations, as did the Chicago Board of Trade.

Arsenic Eaters
It is said that in Styria, Salzburg, the Tyrol and other sections of Austria, white arsenic is given to cattle and horses to render the skin bright and glossy. In addition it has been ascertained that the peasants in these provinces consume it daily, asserting that it increases the appetite, weight and strength and clears the complexion. They gradually accustom themselves to quantities which would prove fatal ordinarily and despite the practice appear to be healthy and long-lived.

Strikes Highest Point
Lightning tends to strike the highest point in the vicinity which might be a barn, a tree, or a man working in a field. Seek adequate protection in a lightning-protected building if possible. Fairly good protection may also be had in a cave or depression of some kind or in a woodland. Never seek a small grove or a single tree in a storm.

Destructive Insects
Keeping flour and other cereals in insect-proof tins and glass jars is an important aid in preventing damage from flour beetles, meal moths and other insects which feed upon these foods. Roaches and ants may also be "starved out" by protecting food from their attack. Failure to protect food from insects both encourages their development and menaces health.

Combustioneer's amazing invention—the Automatic Respirator—now makes automatic heat cheaper than hand-firing.

The efficiency of the Automatic Respirator is astonishing . . . It detects . . . then measures out the precise amount of air required by the fire-bed for complete combustion at all times. Thus all volatile gases and carbon particles in the coal are totally consumed. EXTRA heat energy is extracted from every pound of coal. Fuel savings are exceptional.

Combustioneer is sized for homes, flats, apartments, hotels and factories.

Howdy Folks: The newspapers carry a story about a western holdup who left his victim six bits to get his laundry.

We pass this on to our tax planners in Washington without charge.

One of our customers thinks that what this country has too much of is intoxication.

If we don't look out, we'll be out on a limb like a ventriloquist's dummy.

Some one has said that we should pay our taxes with a smile, but we always found that the tax collector wanted money and lots of it.
